Chinatowns in Latin America

By Noreen Naseem Rodríguez

This slidedeck contains open access images for AAVEd Bite-Sized Lessons for first and sixth grades. Links for all images can be found in the speaker notes.

1st Grade

Barrio Chino, Mexico City, Mexico Photos by Juan Carlos Fonseca Mata

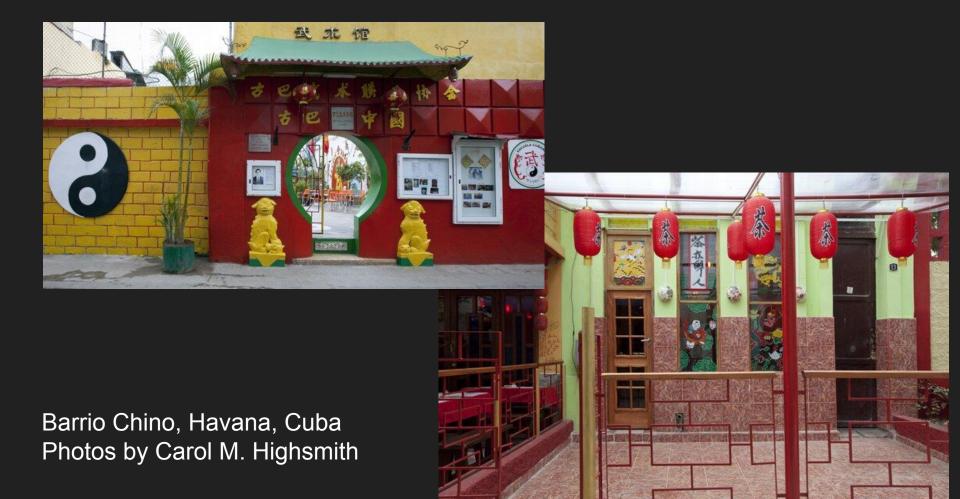

Barrio Chino, Mexico City, Mexico Photos by Beatriz Zarzosa and Juan Carlos Fonseca Mata

Barrio Chino, Havana, Cuba Photos by Delznaga and Tacorontey

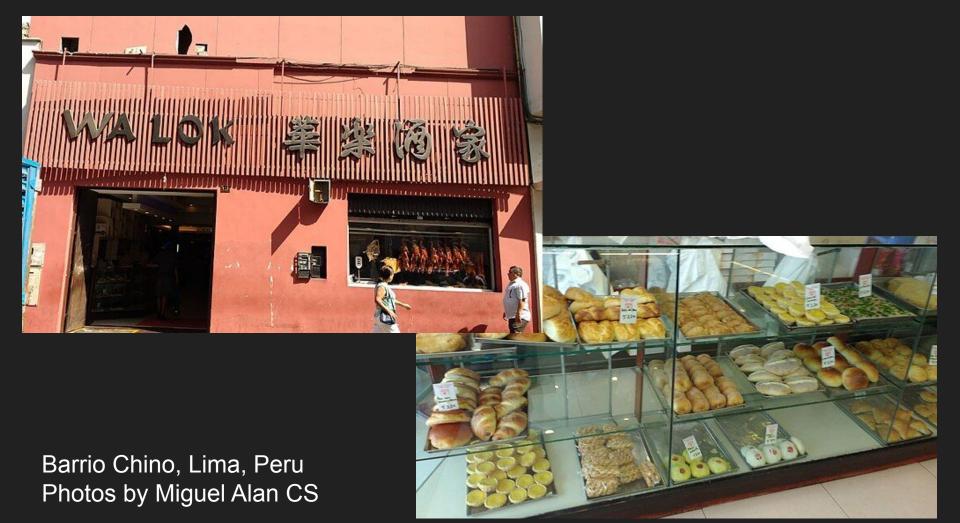

Barrio Chino, Havana, Cuba Photo by Carol M. Highsmith

Barrio Chino, Lima, Peru Photos by David Berkowitz and Epidemia2023x

6th Grade

Chinese Immigration to Peru

Lomo Saltado, the official dish of Peru

Guano deposits in Chincha Islands, Peru

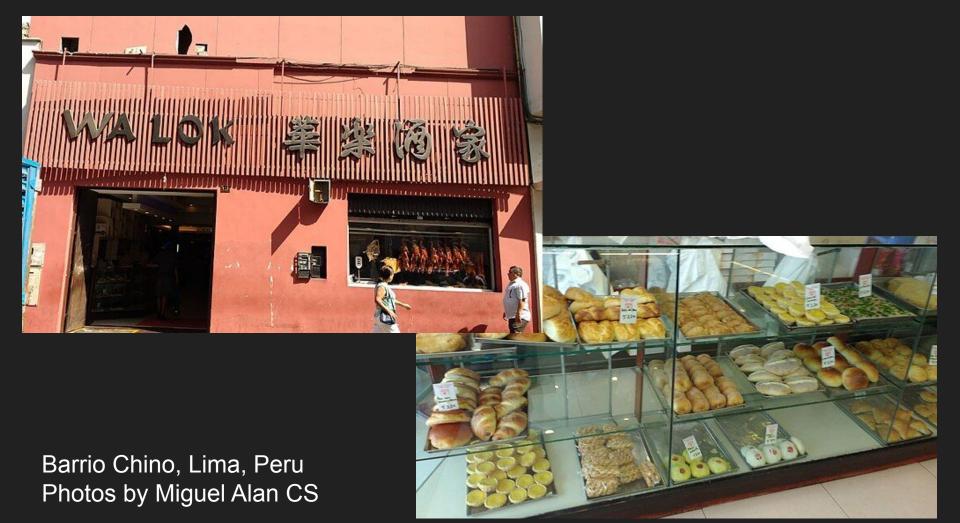

Chinese laborers in Peru, circa 1900

Barrio Chino, Lima, Peru Photos by David Berkowitz and Epidemia2023x

Chinese Immigration to Mexico

Entry Gates to La Chinesca, Mexicali, Mexico Photos by Tyrv and Tacicuri

Entry Gates to La Chinesca, Mexicali, Mexico Photos by Meiguoren and Tacicuri

Barrio Chino, Mexico City, Mexico Photos by Juan Carlos Fonseca Mata

Barrio Chino, Mexico City, Mexico Photos by Beatriz Zarzosa and Juan Carlos Fonseca Mata

Anti-Chinese Political Cartoons in Mexico

Cartoon by José Ángel Espinoza depicting Chinese as Carriers of contagious diseases: "The terrible men of the East, easily contagious, that the Chinese mask with spotless clothes when they work as waiters, launderers, or dependents."

Cover and feature article from the illustrated magazine Sucesos Para Todos ("Events for All"), Number 185, published in summer 1936. The cover text and article headline state, "How the Chinese mafias operate in Mexico."